

The Chosen One

YOU ARE DEARLY LOVED.

When you begin to climb, the view must change. You cannot ask to see the same things from down below as from up above. Many of you wish to cling to what you know and consider normal. With love, we ask you to prepare to leave many of your “precious belongings” behind. Nothing is ever lost when you walk up the stairs except your perception of things. You are an energy that is one with all energy, and you take on a unique melody for a while, creating the illusion of separation in order to find at the top of the stairs again your oneness with all that is. “I am that I am” is you arriving home, experiencing the melding of all existence. As you move higher you can no longer claim that you are a being separated from your surroundings. Your society was based on the idea of defining the separateness of humans, thereby comparing and contrasting one from another. It is part of your linearity to be able to define and classify whoever is presented to you. This way it enables you to distinguish between friend or foe, stranger or family, loved one or hated one.

Indeed it is appropriate and was useful for you to negotiate your survival in this reality. The story is about to change, and your consciousness is no longer focusing on the separateness. A powerful stream of unity consciousness is sweeping and permeating every living thing on this planet, including you. This intense energy is creating invisible links which call upon your awareness to begin focusing on your similarities and your common ground rather than your differences. Many of you call this trend the new technology. It is humorous how quickly many of you separate between the realm of Spirit and the realm of matter, dismissing one over another. Matter is an expression of Spirit. When the need and yearning for unity is created, with pressure building to move beyond walls, there are always those who volunteer to play their part, creating the appropriate technology to fulfill the need. Many of you use this technology not because it is simply there, but because, from a quantum space, you have created it to accommodate your needs. You credit the inventor of this or that technology with ingenuity and reward them with great material wealth as is appropriate in your culture. Know that they just responded to your wishes. We also respond to your wishes by delivering you this frequency, through our words and energy, to facilitate your awakening and activate your mastery. There are many inventions that remain off the buffet table of your awareness because they are not aligned with the direction of your spiritual movement. What remains and takes hold, spreading faster than ever before, are those technologies that are supported by the new energy—the ones of unity, to break down the veil that hides your true common nature. For the new to take hold, the old must let go in order to allow change. You are now in the midst of powerful new energy making advances into territories that are stronghold domains of old energy. The old was built on heavy structures armored with dogma and shielded with an old energy brick-and-mortar fortress to protect you from realizing your own power. These walls must crumble, thus, much of your political, financial, social, psychological, and geographical landscapes are in the midst of this change. The changing of guards is not all pretty. At times, you may classify it as darkness, as it is being expressed in violence, chaos, rage, and destruction. As we hover around you, we must impart to you that there is so much light coming through. The changes you are now seeing are the fruits of your work. Yes, they are not looking pretty at the moment, but they are magnificent and open new potentials for Earth that have never been recorded anywhere. It is a time like no other and you are in the midst of a battlefield. Your light is what makes the difference.

Know that, when you sit in your room feeling love surging in your heart, experiencing oneness with Earth, you have just created a pulse that transferred to the other side of the world instantly, creating a sensation within a young angel's heart saying to herself, "I can feel my power and I will walk today knowing who I am. I ask to regain my mastery over my own life reclaiming my truth." The change that one makes within, using love to activate and awaken their inner knowing, beginning to access their power, actually changes the blueprint of your Earth. One by one you have shifted, and as your numbers grew, the energy that was created brought about changes in remote places. We told you before that it is no longer the politicians or powerful businesses that will invoke these profound changes bringing in the New Sun of humanity. It is you, moving your attention into your heart, expanding your vibration of love from within you to all that is, sending a powerful ripple, just by being and feeling. Your energy will arrive where it needs to go without a name tag or material benefit to you, but all of us will know and everything will shift as a result. It is why you chose to be here now. This is why you went through so much trouble to collect all the scratches and bruises this lifetime, so you can be ready to do your lightwork, finding your truth. Some of you traveled immense distances to play your part on this planet at this time. Do you still feel powerless?

We then hear some of you whisper to us, “I am in pain; I cry often; I do not feel I have any more strength.” Some of you then whisper about the pain of others—the hungry ones, the underprivileged ones, the repressed ones, the subjugated and violated ones, the hurt, wounded, or sad ones. We say to you as we wrap our fluffy wings around you, “You are all sacred. You are all loved. To each of you awaits a unique experience, tailored just for you and all by choice.” You have also gone through many challenging experiences in past cycles and they brought you to where you are now. We take you by your hand and ask you to soar above for just a moment to see it through our angelic eyes. Everything that you see through our eyes is appropriate, woven with a golden string of love, and again, it is by choice.

Why me, you wish to know?

You are The Chosen One, we say with a smile. In your sacred texts those who were named The Chosen Ones were often persecuted and prosecuted as a result; however, the context of the term was removed from its original intention. The Chosen Ones are those of you who chose to shine your light. You are chosen, not by the almighty God in heaven, but by activating the God within you, intending to move higher than ever before. Your choice is sacred, and we fondly tagged you as the “Chosen One.” When you look around you and link to your deepest knowing you may realize that you are exactly where you need to be to fulfill your mission. This realization in itself can shift your perception in an instant from victimhood to gratitude. You have chosen to play the most magnificent role one can play in a physical reality, to activate your mastery, awakening to your true identity and power. Very few have done so in the past and you know most of them by name as your sacred texts recorded their stories.

Why do I have to go through so much turmoil, you wish to know?

Turmoil is one aspect of your path. It is not a requirement, but a phase. Clearing and becoming light are prerequisites to moving higher. If you carry heaviness from many cycles, how can you take off? Even in your aviation regulations, there is a limit on the baggage weight you are allowed to carry. In order to clear your pain, anguish, hurts, or sadness, at times, your starting point must bring those experiences and feelings into you. If your life were only smooth sailing, why would you clear anything? You probably would lie on your back sun-tanning all day long. You have chosen to do the work not only for yourself but for Earth as well. Each time you move higher from a challenge we hold a celebration—not only that you have unloaded your own baggage but that you serviced other humans. You have helped shift the lives of angels in human costume you do not even know. Most of humanity is asleep, and it is appropriate. The ones who are awakened carry the load for all. You only need a drop of blue-colored dye in a glass of water to change the color of the whole glass of water.

Your thoughts or feelings, your moment-by-moment experiences in your sacred journey here, are measured and applied to Gaia. All are loved equally by Spirit and all journeys are woven with love. Your mission is to connect the dots and bring the new frequency into alignment with Gaia at this time, so to facilitate the most profound change humanity will experience in your recorded history.

How do I know this is the truth, some may wonder?

You will know because it will sound a beautiful melody which will vibrate inside your heart, creating harmonious resonance. You know what we speak of and you know us. We are your brothers and sisters. We come from your future. We know what you are going through. Some of us walk with you every moment and follow your every breath on this journey. Do know that Loved you are, Sacred you are, Powerful you are, Beautiful you are, and so be it.
