

Fame and Fortune

NO MATTER WHERE YOU ARE or what you do you are linked to all that is around you. What you do affects all that is. You are never separated from the universe around you as you are an integral part of it. Your actions reverberate to all that is around you and that is why every action you perform is seen by all of us. Your actions impact the universe and what you do has significance.

I feel so unimportant in the big scheme of things, we hear you say to yourself. I am so small and insignificant, we hear others think.

Your actions are not measured by the amount of people who know about them or whether it was reported in the news. The importance of your actions and thoughts are never measured from the human-impact perspective. You are an angel and as such your actions are measured in the realm of heaven not earth. Earth is your stage and heaven is your home. You are an angel who volunteered to come down to play a part that is grand. Part of the role you play is forgetting who you are and trying to rediscover your true identity. We see many of you trying to gain fame and fortune in order to feel more significant and important. We wish to tell you with all love that you do not have to work hard to gain these things. In our realm everyone knows who you are and you are part of the most glorious and grand energy in the universe. Your effort is not only redundant but it is often misdirected. We never judge you and you are free to choose your role. We wish to tap on your forehead if you let us and remind you that your actions are not measured from the temporary fleeting moment you call human life but from the perspective of eternity.

Who you are is not what you see in the mirror. You are beautiful and grand and you are eternal. You appear to us as shapes, melody and colors all swiveling and sparkling. When you act, you create shapes and vibrations which spread to all directions and reach the far corners of the universe in an instant. That is why we ask you to know who you are and know that you are significant. We ask you to understand that as you do what you do as mundane as it appears to you, it has significance. You came to play a role and your mission is to create light and tip the balance of light and darkness on your planet. As such your role is to create and maintain your light at every moment.

How do we do that, some of you may wonder?

It is through the awareness of your actions that you create light. When you walk and act knowing your true identity and act from the source of divinity we call love you are elevating yourself and all that is around you.

How can we create light when all around us there is darkness, others may ask?

With a hug we wish to tell you that your light is allowing those in darkness the option to choose seeing. That is your role and your mission. Most of humanity are in darkness and the job title you were given is light workers or light warriors because your mission is to stay balanced regardless of all the darkness that surrounds you. You were trained for this mission for many expressions and all the knowledge you need is at your fingertips. You are enabled and powerful if you choose to open your eyes and see yourself as you truly are. Those in the dark will want you to be like them. Those in the dark fear light because light automatically transforms darkness and they fear change. Those in the dark will try to get to you by using fear and holding you down so your vibration will not threaten them. Your mission is to keep your light and your vibration and when you do they will run away or transform. The ones of darkness cannot get close to you if you hold your light and if they do their darkness will disappear as they will be illuminated by you.

What is it that you want us to do, some may wonder?

You are to radiate your vibration of love inside of you to those who are trying to tell you that you are hurting them. You are to emit the vibration of love to those around you who will tell you that you are only thinking about yourself and you are inconsiderate. You must project the vibration of love to those who come to you and tell you that if you won't change they will leave you. We ask you to send the vibration of love and stay as you are, doing what you are doing, holding your light and knowing that you are divine and no one can ever make you do or be something else or someone else.

We know of your fears of separation. When you experience fear you cannot emit the vibration of love. We ask you not to fear separation from your fellow angel. When you hold your partner in the highest vibration and wrap them in the energy of love you are opening a door for the highest potential of the relationship to manifest. We know how difficult it is for humans to be together and then separate, we know the challenges of the cords that you develop with your partners and then have to sever. We know the longing of the one who wishes to unite with the other when the roads are blocked. We see you in all your human drama and the fragility of your emotions and we tell you that you are so loved for walking the walk. We wish you to be in a place of love so your partner can use the love vibration you radiate to climb out of their own fears. We ask you to close your eyes and step into the circle where you are always united with all that is. We ask you to feel the hug from us as we surround you and give you our hands. You are walking on earth at a time when the struggle of light and darkness is intensifying as many around you become fearful because the ground under their feet is changing and they feel very insecure. Things do not work as they used to and many do not know what to do.

Know who you are and know that whatever you do in any circumstance has significance and importance. Know that being true to yourself and walking in your divinity is your mission. We ask you to remain the lighthouse regardless of the storm that is coming your way. The lighthouse does not care which storm is coming because its mission is to shine light no matter what. You are that lighthouse and the challenges that you face will increase as the vibration of the earth is moving to the phase we call the initiation of the new energy. This initiation will be marked by your year of 2012 and it will create the potential for peace on earth and a shift of dimensions. Your experiences now are but drills of what is to come. We wish you to know with all love that you are trained for this mission and we ask you to remember who you are and to hold sacred that which you face. We ask you to know that you are built for storms and as painful and threatening as they seem. Know that you can withstand them and come out victorious.

Gaia is creating a vortex for new energy to come in. This new energy is channeled from outer space to support the lighthouses of the planet. Much of this energy is being delivered to you through your sun. We ask you to stay grounded with nature and expose yourself to the sun when you can. Even if you do so for ten minutes a day you may absorb this energy. We wish you to create a sacred space with the sun and nature where you can find your center. We wish you to allow Gaia to support you as it is part of you. It is more important than ever to take the time and connect to the flowers, the trees and the birds. Allow yourself to be part of the energy of the natural world as it has much to teach you. The natural world is you and many of you are separated from it because of your technology and your media. We ask you to search and rediscover that link that you have with the earth under your feet and absorb the love that it has for you. Absorb the love that comes your way from the sun. These are your tools to become powerful. Reconnect with your body and hold a ceremony around it to bless it and give it love. We wish you to love yourself and receive love from the elements. There are many of us who support you as you move forward to meet yourself. You are so dearly loved and we are always with you. We are with you when you doubt us, and we are with you when you are in pain. We see you when you cry and we cry with you. We see your sensitivities and your raw emotions when you are hurt. Know that you are loved and all that you feel is sacred and appropriate for your journey to move forward. Honor that which you face and hold it as sacred. Know that you were meant to be here at this time and that your every action and thought has power. Hold your intention to choose the highest potential in every situation and know that you are divine and that there is never a judgment on what you choose. You are so dearly loved, and so be it.
